Biography

Viviane Y. Naimy is presently professor of Finance and the chairperson of the Department of Accounting & Finance. She served as Director of Admissions and of the Office of Test, Measurement and Evaluation for six years. Well-rounded, she has published numerous articles in several professional journals in the areas of risk management, investment, corporate finance and financial modeling. Her current interests are in spreadsheet modelling, Risk Management, and Model Risk. She was recognized for her superior teaching skills with the reception of the “Best Finance Professor” certificate along with more than ten international awards in recognition of academic excellence in research. She worked for several international banks, and she launched the first Mutual Fund in Lebanon in 1996, and has structured one of the largest syndicated loans. For the World Bank, she assessed the feasibility of introducing the securitization process for the banking sector in Lebanon. She has served as a consultant in cases involving risk management, oil, and financial matters. Naimy is also a piano composer and player.

Peer-reviewed Journals

Local

International
of Business Case Studies, Volume 8 (5), pp. 533-542.

Peer-reviewed Conference Proceedings

Local

Regional

International

Book

Specialized Reports