Biography

I studied Hospitality Management at Notre Dame University in Lebanon, then attended the Hotel Institute in Montreux, Switzerland, graduating with honors with a DESS degree (Diplôme d'Études Supérieures Spécialisées), and winning the Nestlé Prize for outstanding achievement.

I have more than 15 years of managerial experience in 5-star rated properties, such as the Eddé Sands Hotel & Wellness Resort where he was General Manager. My previous appointments include Chief Operating Officer at UBay (the holding company for Tablefine and JAP); MICE director at Le Royal Hotel (LHW); Banquet Manager at Gefinor Rotana Hotel; and F&B supervisor at the Royal Plaza Hotel & Spa in Montreux, Switzerland (formerly known as the InterContinental Montreux). Furthermore, I am a shareholder in Ahwak SAL, a constituent of GHIA Holding, one of the leading companies in F&B management across Lebanon and the Middle East.

I have been a university lecturer for 15 years at Notre Dame University, one of the leading hospitality management schools in Lebanon, preparing the next generation of managers for future industry challenges, and I am currently pursuing a Doctorate in Business Administration at Ecole Supérieure des Affaires in partnership with Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne University. I am also heading a consulting firm specialized in hospitality management Project management, development & concept creation of any kind.
