

Souha AbdelNour Fahed

Assistant Professor

O:B284

T:09.218950, Ext. 2483

E:sabdelnour@ndu.edu.lb

Biography

Souha Abdelnour Fahed is currently an Assistant Professor at Notre Dame University, Louaize, teaching mainly courses in human resources, negotiation, and management.

She has more than ten years experience is teaching as well as consultation for corporate human resource restructuring. Her academic experience in enhanced by the years spent in managing her own start-up and the human resources department at their family owned chain of retail stores. She has also frequent appearances on TV shows promoting issues like time management and conflict resolution.

Dr. Fahed stands for ethical, fair and sustainable businesses that promote flexibility, innovation and prompt response to a continuously changing environment.

Peer-reviewed Conference Proceedings

- Menassa, E., Fahed, S., Germanos, Y., and Saeed, C. (2015). Uncovering the Relationship between Vision/Mission Statements and Firms' Characteristics: The Case of the Lebanese Commercial Banking Sector. Published in Proceedings of The 2015 IABPAD Fall Conference, Las Vegas, Nevada, USA.