Dear Christine,

Apologies, I was on mission and completely forgot to send you my bio and a picture. Below is a short bio, but please feel free to make any changes and amendments that you would need for the web. Please also find attached two pictures and you are welcome to select which one suits you best.

warmest,
Cecilia

Cecilia Andersson is an urban and regional planner trained at the University of Stockholm, Sweden. Thereafter, she worked at the Urban Division at the Swedish International Development Co-operation Agency before joining UN-Habitat in 2001 as a Human Settlements Officer with the Safer Cities Programme. In 2014, she moved to the Urban Planning and Design Branch of UN-Habitat as the Manager of the Global Public Space Programme. The Programme helps to improve capacity of local government institutions and communities, establishment of local and global networks and partnerships, support the development of local and national policy and development of city-wide strategies and pilot/demonstration projects, knowledge management, advocacy and tools and provides expertise and advice to on-going projects by local government in order to increase the impact and improve dimensions of inclusion and leverage public space as a development tool.

Dear Cecilia,

greetings! This is a kind reminder to provide us with a photo of yourself and a short bio to include on the conference website.

Wishing you all the best with your work!

Best regards,

Christine

Dear Christine,

Yes, I will. At the moment we have our Governing Council, but early next week will have the opportunity to pull this together for you.

best,
Cecilia

Dear Ms. Andersson,

could you kindly provide a short biography 100-150 words for display on the CS<sup>3</sup> conference website by 25 May 2017?

Thank you in advance for your kind attention.
