The MoU that is to be signed between LERC and Lions Club Lebanon will have two main focuses; the first will be holding to hold an international conference of the Lebanese members of the Lions Club to discuss their role in Lebanon. The second will be to further develop the LERC Nucleus Museum on Lebanese Migration at Notre Dame University-Louaize.

The meeting ended with Mr. Abou Farah awarding Dr. Hourani a “Communication Certificate” accompanied by the Lions Club pin. The visit was culminated by a visit to the Lebanon Migration Nucleus Museum. Mr. Abou Farah was elated to have had the opportunity to see some of the invaluable collections that LERC has accumulated throughout the past 11 years.
